2024 Wine of Provenance Results

Classic wine styles really held true for the top entries of the class. The whites continue to show consistency and an ability to age with grace while still displaying place and vintage. The reds seemed to perform best when they were chosen from similar vintages and there was a more impactful influence of winemaking evolution across the span of vintages – it worked in the top sets, but did cloud the thread between some sets.

Dry Riesling, Vintage 2023 and older

Judges: Adam Walls, Rebecca Willson, Ben Thoman, Ally Gossen, Steven Soper

Comments: Fabulous class as expected. Riesling showing its pedigree. A hard class to judge as the spread of vintages was 2023 to 2011. The cooler years of 21 to 23 showed their class with a lot of discussion around style which is fabulous.

Dry Semillon, (any vintage)

Judges: Adam Walls, Sophie Otton, Emma Norbiato, Ally Gossen, Steven Soper

Comments: An interesting class to judge with lots of discussion generated about style, texture and age. A 21 and 22 took the chocolates, the 2017 looked great but just lacking some fruit weight.

Dry Shiraz, Vintage 2023

Judges: Adam Walls, Rebecca Willson, Ben Thoman, Ally Gossen, Steven Soper

Comments: A cooler vintage had its obvious challenges with some wines showing high acidity, green tannins and a lack of fruit weight. However the best wines showed a freshness and brightness that makes them great drinks with lots of modern appeal.

Comments: A great class to ruminate over. The cooler vintage showing in the best examples with an imbedded freshness. Some wines showed too much oak and were pointed down. The best were vibrant and showed what modern Barossa Shiraz is all about!

Comments: In general the wines spoke of their cool vintage conditions. The best wines showing power and freshness with a long life ahead. Some wines were scored down for excessive oak use and dead fruit.

Dry Cabernet Sauvignon, Vintage 2023 & 2022

Judges: Peter Kelly, Brett Smith, Fongyee Walker, Ollie Thomas, Michelle Li

Comments: Some interesting wines from two diverse vintages. The top wines maintained varietal definition and had well managed tannins and oak. Lesser wines seem to have had issues related to the timing of picking or vintage troubles.

Comments: Very exciting class. The evolution and attention being paid to the variety is noticeable. Less oak and more balanced expressions in various styles were rewarded. The top wines were a classy and diverse group of wines. One of the best classes of the show

Comments: A fabulous class to judge. A lot of classy wines and a number of different styles. Some wines showed heavy oak use but in general the wines were handled with sensitivity. Great drinking propositions.

Comments: A shining light in a surprisingly small class. VA issues, oak treatment and bunch work must be carefully looked at and managed in this variety.

Dry Red Wine – Other Single Varieties, Vintage 2023 and older

Judges: Adam Walls, Sophie Otton, Emma Norbiato, Ally Gossen, Steven Soper

Comments: A fun class to judge. Challenging but fun. Great to see the scope of varieties being made. Sadly a couple of wines had some microbial issues which need to be watched as the wine underneath looked promising. Promising to see each variety being made with a focus on tannin and acidity rather than just bright fruit.
